[illegible] the negro in his [illegible] may better be allowed to [illegible] the further remainder of negro [illegible] gratified politicians living at [illegible], and less familiar with the habits and [illegible] of the black people.

The matter [illegible] is certainly not one to be disposed of by a sweeping [illegible], fulminated from the Executive Chamber with [illegible] any regard to the peculiar habits of the [illegible] and irrespective of the [illegible] of individual State authority now in progress. What the President doubtless aims at, is to see the people of the South, as distinct from the disloyal [illegible], set to work, under the [illegible] of the national authority, and recognize the new [illegible] in which they stand to the negro population, and to do this as the first step toward re-establishing a proper relation between their several State Governments. When that work is once set about—as it appears to be in Arkansas and North Carolina—in a loyal spirit, the question of negro suffrage will find a natural solution in course of time without any arbitrary rule applied from without.

A far more pressing matter for the class concerned is that of well-directed and remunerative labor. This the negro is most likely to secure not by creating antagonistic relations [illegible] him and the loyal citizens of another race, but by leaving the natural [illegible] of mutual self-interest to determine their relative status politically hereafter. This, we take it, is the theory which the President's long and varied experience as a Southern citizen enables him to [illegible].

JEFF. DAVIS TO BE TRIED FOR TREASON.—The impression gains ground that Jeff. Davis will be tried for treason before the Courts of the District of Columbia at Washington. In [illegible] contrary opinion it has been urged that as the crime of treason can only be tried in the district in which it was committed, and as Jeff. Davis has never been within the District of Columbia since the rebellion began, therefore the Courts of Washington can have no jurisdiction of his case. The reply to this is that in order to constitute the crime of treason, it is not necessary that the party should himself perform physically the overt act which makes the offense, but he may be guilty of treason by directing the movements of others, and no matter how far distant the director or principal may be removed from the place or district in which the overt act was committed by his agent [illegible] held amenable to the law of the district where the overt act was committed. If the law [illegible] punishes the crime in the State or district where the principal was when he [illegible] the act [illegible] and the State or district in which the [illegible] then the first jurisdiction that [illegible] the person. Jeff. Davis was captured [illegible] in custody of the Federal Government. The State government of Virginia has not [illegible] gain custody of his person. There can therefore be no controversy about the first [illegible] that attaches. There is as little ground for controversy as to the [illegible] of the overt act within the District of Columbia. On the 12th of July last Jeff. Davis's forces invaded this district, threatened the capital, attacked the Federal troops at Fort Stephens, and shot [illegible] several hundred of our men, killing [illegible] of them. There is no difficulty, therefore, in proving that Jeff. Davis has committed the crime of treason within the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court.

It is not impossible that a further search [illegible] archives will bring out an abundance of [illegible] evidence [illegible] the treasonable [illegible] Jeff. Davis and his associates [illegible] some five tons of these [illegible] were captured a few days [illegible] North Carolina and sent to Washington [illegible] will be remembered that when [illegible] evacuated [illegible] so hurriedly [illegible] the archives were [illegible] to the flames. These [illegible] for preservation were sent to Charlotte [illegible] keeping.

Indian Troubles---Who were Right?

The difficulties with the [illegible] of Auburn seems to be of quite a [illegible]. Details will be found in the petition [illegible] Baker county for military protection [illegible] this issue. [illegible] been [illegible] for a long time [illegible] in those parts of the State where the savages are now [illegible] it was known that there were [illegible] hiding places in [illegible] three enough of these [illegible] thieves and murderers to cause the people a great deal of trouble and hence it was sought by our authorities to provide against such occurrences as those now transpiring in Baker county, by enlisting a sufficient number of troops to protect the people and keep the Indians in check and to punish them for their [illegible] violence.

Considerations of this kind caused the [illegible] for raising troops to be issued last fall. The Legislature saw the difficulty of procuring volunteers without the additional inducement of a State bounty, and accordingly an act was passed granting to each enlisted soldier one hundred and fifty dollars, which sum the State agreed to pay. Certain parties with marvelous astuteness, discovered the act to be unconstitutional. After a time a certain worn-out politician who has long outlived his usefulness—if indeed it may not be gravely doubted whether he has ever aided any good thing—and who has been more remarkable for petty craftiness in managing primary conventions than for ever having given sound advice in matters of legislation, concluded he saw an opportunity to establish himself in the favor of all the factious elements in the State, and with this view splattered and wrote against the lawfulness of enlisting troops in the manner decided upon. His efforts were to a great degree successful in arresting the enlistment of volunteers, (this statement is not intended to do him honor, by giving him credit for wielding a great influence, for many a worse man than he, has done a greater mischief) and as a consequence, there is not now a single company which can be sent at once to assist the people whose lives and property are in so great danger. The presence of a company of cavalry in that vicinity would have prevented the recent robberies there. The people who have suffered these losses may thank these officious meddlers to whom we are alluding for that wretched economy which rather than incur a little necessary expense in providing for the defense of the frontier, invites rapine and murder, by exposing an unprotected people to the cupidity of those whose savage instincts are known to lead them invariably to acts of violence whenever opportunity offers.

The absurd averment that troops were not required in this State, and that the last call was useless and unwise, is confuted by occurrences like those now witnessed in Baker county. We think these self constituted guardians of the State Constitution and the public treasury will now discover that their sedulous endeavors to convince the people that the passage of the bounty bill was an act of reckless prodigality will be of no avail. Every one now knows that troops were needed and that we yet have not enough. Let us hear no more on this subject from the political [illegible] and his factious followers who echo these absurdities.

MUTATIS MUTANDIS.—At the commencement of a combat it is very easy to make predictions as to who will come out triumphant. At its close it is equally easy for those who prophecy has been disappointed to bind the laurel on the brow of the conqueror and join in the general acclamation which celebrates the victory. After Pharsalia the noble Romans who had stood by Pompey could cheer most lustily for Cæsar; after Chæronea, the Athenians chose to be foremost in sustaining Philip; after Waterloo the whole world resounded with praises of the greatness and [illegible] of Britain. And now, after our own civil war is over, they who had proclaimed the subjugation of the South impossible are among the first in extolling the valor of the victors and in magnifying their power, courage and great deeds. During the progress of our war the London Times on innumerable occasions sagely informed the world that the rebellion could never be subdued; now, not in the least abashed by the refutation of its prediction, it falls to praising the armies which have gained the victory and which it ridiculed so contemptuously in the early part of the struggle. The following extract contains its recantation:

> "The superiority of the Federal armies enabled them to prevail in actual conflict; their progress in discipline enabled them to take advantage of victory. Two years ago then Lee would probably have escaped to Lynchburg, even after such a defeat as that he sustained the other day. But now the Federal Generals move with the rapidity and attack with the promptness of Napoleon's Marshals. Their cavalry which at the beginning of the war was the laughing stock of the Confederates, is now excellent, and they know how to use with effect the plentiful appliances of warfare which their Government can furnish them."

THE OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.—There is a good deal of inquiry about the cause of the non reception of dispatches from the East. Some we learn are inclined to blame us for not giving them news. A statement of the case will convince such that the fault is very far from being ours. We are incommoded by the break in the line more than any other parties here possibly can be. This firm pays for the dispatches now just as much as they do when the line is in perfect order. The [illegible] the same whether we receive anything or not. Hence it will be seen that we lose more than those who impatiently censure us.

Between Salt Lake and Denver the Indians are so numerous and strong that the line cannot be well guarded at all points at once. The mail route between the two places just named has been changed and now follows a line a long way south of the old road on which the telegraph is built. The military force [illegible] tion has necessarily been removed from the [illegible] to the new mail route leaving the telegraph almost unprotected for a long distance [illegible] all efforts to keep the line in [illegible] working order have been baffled. A few [illegible] rator and some assistants are said to have been killed beyond Salt Lake. A sufficient force will doubtless go out in a few days to repair the line and guard it against further attack. For the present we must possess ourselves in patience and wait until the news can reach us.

THE MAIL.—This morning the [illegible] goes forward. The California Stage Company offer to carry it a few days longer. Mr [illegible] the Postal Agent [illegible] Davis has been authorized [illegible] to the Stage Company as usual.

We hope to see the arrangements for carrying the mail by the new [illegible] perfected at once. From present indications we think there will be no interruption.

By Overland Telegraph.

The adjourned meeting which was to come off in Platt's Hall last evening, for the purpose of further expressing its sentiments about the propriety of turning out with our colored population on the Fourth of July, failed to obtain the hall. The crowd then adjourned to the Police Court room. Mr Staats, the President of the first meeting, took the chair; subsequently he vacated his seat for another person. The proceedings were boisterous. Several persons were arrested for using violent language. The meeting finally agreed to turn out on their own hook. The dissatisfaction [illegible] desire to hold another meeting before the 4th if they can procure a room.

The trot yesterday over the Park, five miles out in harness, for $1,000 resulted in favor of "Grey Eagle," he winning by at least 200 yards. The time astonished all the knowing ones. The lowest mark was 15 0[illegible], that being eight seconds faster than the time made by the same horses last week over the Ocean House Course, which was won by Grey Eagle in 15 13.

The excitement relative to the pending suit in Nevada between the Ophir and Moscow yesterday exceeded any sensation witnessed on Montgomery street for many months. Hundreds of dollars in bets large and small were made, and so great was the crowd that the police were compelled to clear the walks. The betting was slightly in favor of the Ophir.

Arrived—British bark Prospector, from Valparaiso, with flour to Cross & Co.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The Overland Telegraph Line is still out of order east of Salt Lake City.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Speaker of the last House of Representatives and a member of the new Congress, Lieutenant Governor Bross, of Illinois, Mr Richardson, of the New York Tribune and Mr Bowles of the Springfield Republican, arrived in this city last night by the way of the plains. The party on their arrival in this city were received by Mayor Coon and a Committee of the Board of Supervisors and [illegible] Mellner, A. A. Sargent and other distinguished citizens and escorted to the Occidental Hotel where they are now staying.

Petition for Military Aid.

The people of Baker county are suffering intolerably from depredations committed in that region by Indians and guerrilla whites. The following petition from Auburn, with the subjoined letter from Mr Johnson, Judge of Baker county, explains the condition of things in that quarter:

PETITION.

AUBURN, June 27, 1865.

To His Excellency A. C. Gibbs, Governor of Oregon: Your petitioners most respectfully represent that there is a most formidable band of horse thieves and desperadoes, composed of Indians and [illegible] white men, that infest the southeastern portion of Oregon; that horses have been stolen and depredations committed every week this spring and summer at various points; that small parties have followed said thieves from various points to near the head of South Fork of Malheur river and the Snowy Mountain which seems to be their general rendezvous; that when followed they have been found in great force and defy pursuit and capture; that your petitioners from want of arms, supplies and organization are powerless to pursue and recapture stock from said desperadoes [illegible] whom are Indian [illegible] Malheur river [illegible] party in pursuit that they had ever come to wound [illegible] stolen horses and mules and that if we wanted them [illegible] fight for them [illegible] stolen property as follows [illegible] [illegible] 12 head of fine horses from Malheur [illegible] [illegible] three were taken on the night in the neighborhood of Mr [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

Your petitioners pray that [illegible] taken in the premises [illegible] ity to life and property [illegible]

[illegible] Bowen; [illegible] and [illegible] others.

[illegible]

AUBURN, June 27 [illegible]

His Excellency, A. C. Gibbs: [illegible] take the liberty of [illegible] petition [illegible] this place. In addition [illegible] will say [illegible] grazing [illegible] every day [illegible] [illegible] addition to this there are [illegible] information that [illegible] twenty [illegible] Auburn and there [illegible] well posted up in the [illegible] hinder a small party [illegible] them [illegible] [illegible] done the sooner we [illegible] hundred [illegible] hours if they can be mounted [illegible] Government or by the State [illegible] sent, at them [illegible] that infantry could [illegible] stock or chastising the savages [illegible] hear from you at the earliest [illegible]

Allow me to say [illegible] in Oregon, when [illegible] chief [illegible] whites [illegible] defense of our frontier [illegible]

Yours respectfully,
N. JOHNSON.

DOLOROUS.—We have received a letter from Auburn replete with recitals of various [illegible] which have been and are now [illegible] the people of that place. Their troubles with the Indians are the most severe [illegible] they may be of short duration.

That part of the letter which treats of the [illegible] perpetrated by the Indians [illegible] ied, in substance, in the petition from Auburn for military aid which has lately been required of the Governor. The Governor has [illegible] referred the petition to [illegible] Maury, [illegible] what can be done.

Our correspondent informs us that the mail [illegible] not, and has not been carried to Auburn in pursuance of the contract. The postal agent will [illegible] this matter for his investigation.

The miners at Auburn are [illegible] work for want of water. The Canal Company charge twenty five cents per inch [illegible] few claims are rich enough to pay so much.

ANOTHER INMATE.—Last week an insane person named Stephen Post was brought to the Asylum from British county. [illegible] the quiet and harmless kind [illegible] ject to epilepsy for some [illegible] forty five years.

THE SHENANDOAH.—The [illegible] craft was reported to be about ready to sail on the 1st of May, from Ceylon for Manilla. When the [illegible] sailed from Melbourne last February it was ascertained that he took a westerly direction. He is reported to be hovering in the East India seas waiting for news from home.

WELLS, FARGO & CO'S PLACE OF BUSINESS.—Nearly [illegible] years ago we gave a description of the perfectly pointed place of business then occupied by Wells, Fargo & Co., for their Express and Banking transactions. [illegible] the past week they have removed their banking [illegible] into the addition lately added to the building, which [illegible] completed for their office, and have their entire [illegible] so admirably fixed for the convenience of [illegible] all departments of their extensive business as to [illegible] ... [illegible] ... The rooms of the assay office take up the new [illegible] the first room [illegible] ... melting furnaces [illegible] ... the tie [illegible] up the crude bullion, stamping, &c. The [illegible] room [illegible] ... [illegible] ... being cast, [illegible] ... the working department [illegible] entire arrangement [illegible] completed [illegible] ... [illegible] Clay, Welker, which is perhaps the most perfect office in the world. Mesk A. King [illegible] of the firm [illegible] & King of [illegible] formerly of the San Francisco Branch Mint, [illegible] of the assaying department. The fourth room leading from the private [illegible] of the above department, is a large freight room, [illegible] receiving goods [illegible] ... forwarded by express, [illegible] also used as a general [illegible] for the stationery and [illegible] ... and a private department for those who remain constantly about the office. [illegible] fifth room is in the commission department of the banking, letter and express business leading to First and [illegible] streets. From this room is the entrance to the [illegible] vault, [illegible] ... about $1,000 [illegible] ... [illegible] and [illegible] ... This vault is nearly twelve feet [illegible] ... and is so arranged as to defy all the burglars in the land, as well as prevent any injury from [illegible] ... causes whatever, when the doors are closed. SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.—The examination of scholars at the Portland Academy and Female Seminary progressed from Thursday morning last until noon on Saturday, giving very good satisfaction to the patrons of the Institute, and showing a considerable degree of proficiency amongst the pupils. The examinations were well attended by citizens and others who feel an interest in the work of education which now seems so thoroughly established in our [illegible]. To-day the examination will proceed at the Academy, when two classes, Astronomy and Physiology, will be examined, and the standings of the past session will be read. The commencement exercises will be held at the [illegible] Church this evening. A larger class of graduates than has ever gone out at any previous term will be [illegible] with diplomas. The following is the programme as arranged for to-night:

1. Prayer.
2. Duet—"Bridle Call! You Be [illegible]"
3. Essay—"Life Work," by Miss [illegible]
4. Song and Chorus—"Yes, the boys are coming home."
5. Essay—The Schoolroom [illegible], by Miss Mary A. Robinson.
6. Duet—[illegible] music in the air.
7. Essay—Ever onward, by Miss Maria Holly.
8. Oration—Demands of the age, by J. H. Cox.
9. Solo and Chorus—Lay me down and save the Flag.
10. Essay—There's light beyond, Miss Anna E. Pope.
11. Oration—The battle of Life, J. C. N. Moreland, [illegible]
12. Duet—The Campaign Over—the Victory Won.
13. Essay—Dreaming is not work, with Valedictory [illegible] by Miss Jose DeVore.
14. Song—The graduates Farewell.
15. Presentation of Diplomas.
16. Address to the Graduating Class by Rev. H. C. [illegible], D. D.
17. Parting Hymn.
18. Benediction.

[illegible] LAUNCHED.—Capt. Kern's new boat was safely launched at noon yesterday, by her builder Mr. John [illegible], and is now along-side the wharf. There was considerable difficulty attending the getting of the boat into the water, as she had to be "[illegible]" over a perpendicular bank twelve feet high. She was not launched on Saturday as proposed, in consequence of some earth getting [illegible] her launching and her running ways, which [illegible] her going down the incline, and as the river [illegible] rapidly falling, and her situation rather precarious, it became necessary to launch her on Sunday, when she [illegible] off without a scratch. She was named by Colonel [illegible] U. S. Grant, in honor of the illustrious hero [illegible] Federal Army. The new craft sits like a duck on the water, and will be a perfect model for beauty and strength. It seemed a little dubious about her safety on Saturday, but her friends were cheerful yesterday. We think Capt. Kerns deserves credit for his enterprise, in getting up such a fine craft as this will be, and the workmanship reflects much to favor of Mr Bruce, who evidently has an eye to speed as well as adaptability. The U. S. [illegible] will be running by the last of the month.

[illegible].—The proprietor of this establishment is under [illegible] to the gentlemanly officers of the steamer [illegible] for favors and attentions. In making mention of [illegible] it occurs to us that there are many others who [illegible] wish to bear evidence of the kind, hospitable treatment received at the hands of Purser [illegible], Capt. [illegible], and Steward Hickards of that craft. They are always [illegible] depended upon in their several stations, by the [illegible] community. The Rescue is a home for anybody [illegible] about meal time.

[illegible] COURT.—Circuit Court adjourned on Saturday [illegible] closing the term. There will be a special term for [illegible] pending in two weeks. By petition of members [illegible] Judge Shattuck will file his decision in the [illegible] touching upon criminal law and the defects of the [illegible] which do not permit crimes committed since the [illegible] of the former statute, and prior to the time when [illegible] law went into effect to be punished.

[illegible].—Rev. John W. Selwood, Jr., was yesterday admitted to Priests' Orders at St. Stephen's Chapel [illegible] city. The exercises were conducted by Rt. Rev. [illegible], assisted by Rev. T. E. Scott, Rev. P. E. Hyland and [illegible] Selwood. The young minister is a son of Rev. John [illegible] Selwood, Sr., of Salem. The Convocation will meet at [illegible] this morning, when the Charge of the Bishop [illegible] be delivered to the Clergy, and the Convocation [illegible].

[illegible] PACK TRAIN.—A train of Government [illegible], loaded and equipped for an expedition on the [illegible] in the direction of Canyon City from Eugene, to [illegible] with a surveying party, passed through this city [illegible] Fort Vancouver, yesterday.

[illegible] UP.—A horse hitched to an awning post at the [illegible] of Oak and First streets yesterday noon, broke [illegible] and in his efforts to try his speed, upset an express [illegible] and demolished the carriage to which he was [illegible].

[illegible] LOGS.—Messrs. Estes & Stimpson, of the upper [illegible] of this city, have lately been engaged in purchasing [illegible] large bill of logs from parties on the Slough. Three [illegible] feet are to be delivered, at a cost of over $12,000. [illegible] steamer Eagle is engaged in the towing.

[illegible] PROMPT.—The procession will move promptly at [illegible] o'clock A. M. to-morrow, in accordance with the [illegible] programme published. A 15-minute gun will be fired [illegible] moving. All Societies, trades and organizations [illegible] bear this in mind.

[illegible].—The beautiful evenings we now enjoy are [illegible] for music, and the Mechanics' Band, taking advantage of the splendid weather, were out on Saturday evening mingling their notes with the clear air and moonlight. Such nocturnal rests must be highly appreciated.

[illegible].—Some beautiful little crafts are now kept in this city for sailing, on the river and the pure breezes of [illegible] gently wafting the [illegible] of the noble Willamette on these pleasant moonlight evenings, makes this the most desirable recreation of the season.

EXCURSIONS.—The steamers plying up the Columbia, [illegible] the Willamette, and down the Columbia, to and from this city, are calculating upon full loads of passengers for Portland to-morrow. From the Dalles to Astoria, and from Lancaster to Milwaukie, we hear of people coming.

LOST.—One of the books belonging to the Finance Committee for the Celebration was lost somewhere between [illegible] and Columbia streets. The finder will oblige [illegible] by leaving it at this office or with Mr. C. [illegible].

[illegible].—Hon. Elwood Evans and family arrived in [illegible] city from Olympia on Saturday evening, by the O [illegible] Company's steamer Rescue.

[illegible] COURT.—The July term of the County Court for [illegible], Judge Magnus presiding, will convene at [illegible] at 9 o'clock A. M.

[illegible] 4th of July Celebration. Marshals and [illegible] will meet promptly at 9 o'clock at their rendezvous [illegible] street.

A Magnificent Display of FIREWORKS

Will be exhibited on Raleigh's Block, on Seventh street, between Stark and A streets, in the evening under the direction of Mr. George Hodges, Pyrotechnist, during which time Mechanic's Brass Band (John Everest leader) will perform a variety of popular and national airs.

PROGRAMME:

The exhibition will be announced at 9 o'clock by the firing of signal Rockets, to be succeeded by the following pieces:

VERTICAL WHEEL.

Commencing with bursts, brilliant and grey fires, with crimson and green centres.

Rockets with Gold Rain.

PALM TREES.

This beautiful piece commences with colored pots, mutating to a galaxy of Roman candles.

Rockets with Serpents.

MALTESE CROSS.

[illegible] piece commences with a vertical wheel, [illegible] Cross of Chinese Fire with centres of colored stars.

[illegible] with Crimson and Green Stars.

UNITED DIAMONDS.

This piece commences with silver lance-work of five diamonds with crimson centres, mutating to battery of spur fire marooned.

Rockets with Streamers.

PATAGONIAN GLORY.

Commencing with a superb hexagon wheel of brilliant orange, crimson, Saxon, Chinese, Rayonet, with an illuminated centre of crimson and green, terminating in brilliant radii with report.

Rockets with Gold Rain.

THE ZANNIA PERUVIA.

Commencing with a superb hexagonal vertical wheel in brilliant, [illegible], orange, white, rayonet and [illegible] fires, [illegible] to Zannia Peruvia, flowers and four blue violets, with illuminated fires of various hues, forming a most splendid and novel appearance—changing to a superb figure piece of Chinese brilliant fire marooned.

Rockets with Crimson Stars.

FAIRY DANCE OR POLKA.

This [illegible] piece consists of seven sets, revolving and outspinning through the various evolutions, and comprising circles of every color.

Rockets with [illegible].

THE CHINESE LYCHENISE.

This is an original, never having been fired before by any artist. It commences with a vertical wheel, revolved by sombre, Jessamine, Chinese, Rayonet, Maltese and spangled fires, illuminated in the centre with crimson, purple and gold fires, changing to a superb serpentine figure piece of a Chin[illegible] Lychenise Flower, of extra brilliancy, composed of silver lance-work, alternating to a display of carmine and emerald lights, finishing with a superb radii of sylvan glory, composed of spangled gerb fire marooned.

Table Rockets.

UNION.

This beautiful piece opens with a vertical wheel with chameleon centres, changing to a star in diamond lance-work, between the points of which will be the word UNION, mutating to a Sun of Rayonet Fires, 30 feet in diameter, ending with maroon explosions.

Italian Stars.

TRIBUTE OF CERES.

This elegant and new piece in the Pyrotechnic Art, commences with a hexagonal, vertical wheel of Maltese fires, with crimson and yellow rose, changing to the Tribute of Ceres, composed of brilliant Chinese gerbs, forming a beautiful cross-fire, enclosing Saxon Rosettes, and terminating with maroon explosions.

Carrier Pigeons.

THE ISPAHAN ROSE.

This beautiful and much admired piece commences with a variegated and richly colored hexagon vertical wheel, changing to the Ispahan rose, of all the colors known to Pyrotechnics, mutating to a splendid sun of Chinese gerb fire, ending with a Grand Feu de Joie.

Rockets with Streamers.

STAR OF AMERICA.

This new and splendid piece of Fire Works opens with a splendid sun of variegated fires of crimson, purple, green and yellow, mutating to the Star of America, 50 feet in diameter, with richly colored Saxons, terminating with a grand maroon battery.

Rockets with Gold Rain.

THE BOUQUET.

A new and splendid piece, never before exhibited, called "The Bouquet"—commencing with a vertical, hexagonal wheel of red, white, blue, Jessamine, Palestine, Maltese and Saxon fires, which communicate to the Bouquet of Silver, Roman and Mosaic, representing a bouquet of flowers of all colors, intermingled with rosettes of purple, green, crimson and amber, terminating in a grand Feu de Joie.

Rockets with Sanctissions and Serpents.

GRAND TABLEAU OF LIBERTY.

This magnificent piece will consist of THIRTEEN ARCHES—the six grand arches in the center, and be surmounted with the American Eagle, with shield canopied with thirteen stars done in silver and crimson lance-work, and containing the following inscription:

JULY 4TH, 1776.

In the center the bust of

WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN

To the right, will be appropriately represented,

OUR ARMY,

with the names of GRANT, SHERMAN, MEADE and SHERIDAN, and the Mottoes of VICKSBURG and RICHMOND done in silver lance-work. On the left of the centre will be represented with the names of FARRAGUT, PORTER, DUPONT and LAMSON, together with the Mottoes of NEW ORLEANS and MOBILE—in letters of fire so plain that he who runs may read, making the most brilliant display of Fireworks of every color known to the art—terminating with a

OUR NAVY,

GRAND FEU DE JOIE

of thousands of Serpents, Stars and Rockets, occupying a space of TEN THOUSAND SQUARE FEET, being the largest piece ever exhibited on the Pacific Coast.

Why?

Why [illegible] hate him [illegible] He has won
To [illegible]
What [illegible]
The [illegible] land as [illegible]

Fai[illegible] [illegible]
[illegible]
But [illegible]
At [illegible]

We met as knights [illegible]
To joust [illegible]
And then [illegible]
That [illegible]

No [illegible] heart [illegible]
To take [illegible]
If I the prize [illegible]
My [illegible] shall be [illegible]

Let him flaunt false heralds favor on
His proud [illegible] gleaming helm
Nothing [illegible] fit to be won
If that alone shall me [illegible]

My heart was right [illegible]
She was the [illegible]
At [illegible]
[illegible]

Beat [illegible]
To [illegible]
He stagge[red] [illegible]
And I was [illegible]

Still [illegible]
The [illegible] the strife [illegible]
She [illegible]
And so again in charge we met

Strong blows I dealt him [illegible]
But he was [illegible]
Fair blows I dealt him [illegible]
While half were false [illegible]

[illegible]
And [illegible]
But [illegible]
I fell [illegible]

And then she trembling [illegible]
[illegible] right [illegible]
But [illegible] her look and quivering [illegible]
Betrayed a [illegible]

And laid his [illegible] bar[e]
She other choice had [illegible] made
And gladly crowned me conqueror

But no! I would not have it [illegible]
If mine she were at all [illegible]
It must not be because she saw
How false and foul a thing was he

And yet I hate him [illegible] He has won
Her only for her place and wealth
What is it to me—the deed is done
Whether I still have joy and health?

This I could bear [illegible] it had been
That [illegible] I had suffered [illegible]
But she too now his soul has seen
And known that all his gold is [illegible]

The Yellow Fever Plot

The San Francisco Bulletin has the following history of the yellow fever plot, in which the infamous Dr Blackburn and the rebel agents in Canada, were the authors

Some of the leading facts concerning the plan to introduce yellow fever and other contagious diseases in the Union army, and into the cities of the North, have been already published. Recent developments show that the late operations of the infamous Dr. Luke P. Blackburn (now under arrest in Canada, for a breach of the neutrality laws) were intended to repeat on a large scale an attempt of a similar character more than a year ago, which met with only partial success.

The Detroit Advertiser makes an expose of the scheme from the earliest inception. Dr. Blackburn seems to have been the originator of this fiendish plot, and to have communicated it to ex-Governor McWillie of Mississippi, who in 1863, gave Dr. Blackburn an order for several hundred bales of cotton, which he was to sell, and employ the proceeds in consummating his scheme. The Doctor endeavored unsuccessfully to sell his cotton at Mobile and at other points. He went to Richmond and laid his scheme before the rebel government, but we are informed, did not obtain official sanction, although he was encouraged by leading rebels to persevere in his plans. Among leading men who are mentioned as encouraging him, we have the names of Duncan F. Kenna and Lieut. Sparrow, from his own State. While at Richmond, Dr. Blackburn endeavored to raise money on his cotton but failed. He went from there to Havana in the spring of 1864 where he raised money for his operations, principally from Louisiana rebels. Among those who subscribed, were Addison Cammack and George Gregory.

It is stated that Blackburn owned a one quarter interest in the famous yacht Wanderer in 1858, and that he was a partner of Dr. Graham, who killed Loring in New York city, some years ago. It is not stated how Blackburn got into Canada but in the fall of 1864, he was at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, on the look-out for some one to aid him in his scheme.

About this time, a person traveling under the assumed name of J. W. Harris, arrived from Helena Ark., whence he had been expelled by the occupation of that section by Union troops. He applied to H. C. Slaughter, rebel enlisting agent at Montreal, expressing a desire to go into the rebel army. Slaughter brought his case to the attention of the Rev. Dr. Stuart Robinson of Kentucky then at Toronto, and the rebel parson introduced him to Dr. Blackburn, Harris was then working as a shoemaker in Toronto, Dr. B. was stopping at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, and there Harris had his first interview with him. At first he pretended to be a recruiting agent, and told Harris that he would send him South in company with some new recruits, but finally broached the scheme and, flattering his victim for his courage and sagacity, he enlisted his services, promising him $60 000 from the rebel government in case he succeeded. Although Blackburn had succeeded indifferently in seeking the indorsement of the rebel government at Richmond, he was more fortunate with the agents of that government in Canada who entered at once into his project, supplied him with money, and gave him their approval. Blackburn promised that he would tell Harris how he could do more than to join Lee's army with 100,000 men, and add more to his fame than Gen. Lee, that he wanted Harris to kill and destroy as many of the Northern army or the people of the place which he should visit as was possible. The means of destruction were to consist of cases of goods, shirts, pants, etc., infected with yellow fever. Harris promised to undertake the mission, and Blackburn told him to go to his work, and that he might expect to hear from him by telegraph through one Dr. Robinson. This was in December, 1863. In the month of May following Harris received his instructions in a letter written by Blackburn from Havana. The letter was given to him by Dr. Robinson, who had read its contents but declined having anything to do with the business, but expressed his willingness to look after Harris' family while he was absent on the expedition. Robinson said he did not want to do any overt act. He, however, became security for Harris, to enable him to borrow a small sum of money with which to start on the way. Harris went to Montreal, saw Slaughter, the rebel enlisting agent, who said he knew what Harris had come for as he had received a letter from Dr. Blackburn. Slaughter introduced Harris to [illegible] Holcomb, who told Harris that he had heard of him in the Southern Confederacy before he ran away. Slaughter and Holcomb furnished Harris with money to prosecute his journey to Halifax.

Harris remained at Halifax to meet Blackburn who arrived the 12th July from Bermuda. Harris says: "While here I received a letter from Dr. Robinson advising me to start on the expedition as my family were starving. It was an affectionate letter. I showed the letter to [illegible] and he said he would take care of my family as he was going there immediately. He said they are damned fine Southern men; knowing where you are going, not to look after your family. [illegible] H. Huntley [one of the St. Albans raiders] was there; he knew all about the expedition."

Harris met one McGregor and another man named Hancock from New Orleans in company with Dr. Blackburn in the room of the latter at the Halifax Hotel. The Dr. said the goods [illegible] ready; wanted Harris to go to Washington, Norfolk and Newbern, or if he could not get them [illegible] to send them in some way; that some arrangement would have to be made with some vessel to smuggle the goods to Boston as they would be inspected by custom house officers. Harris went on board the steamer Alpha by which Blackburn arrived from Bermuda, and took off the trunks, in company with the first mate named Hill, and smuggled the goods into Halifax. The trunks were eight in number. Five of them were taken to the Farmers' Hotel, on the order of Dr. Blackburn; three trunks were taken to the Halifax Hotel. These were not infected.

There was also a very nice valise containing some elegant shirts and other articles infected with fever or small pox, which Blackburn and his confederates wanted Harris to take, with a letter to President Lincoln. Harris refused to undertake [illegible] the White House, and [illegible] [illegible] of the sale [illegible] Dr. Blackburn [illegible] Harris that if he should [illegible] of the [illegible] trunks he must [illegible] infected [illegible] cigars and [illegible] [illegible] Washington, the contents to be sold by auction. One of the small trunks was to be sold at Norfolk and the other at Newbern.

Dr. Blackburn sent Harris, with Mr. Hill, [illegible] to arrange for smuggling the [illegible] with Captain [illegible] [illegible] Harris went to New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore in succession. At Philadelphia he had the infected goods sent to the American Hotel [illegible]. At Baltimore [illegible] He had them stored [illegible] so that they would sell better. Being short of money, he [illegible] where he arrived August [illegible].

Dr. Blackburn was at Niagara Falls in company with McGregor, Hill and C. C. Clay and S. S. Preston. Dr. B. gave Harris on his application $100 in gold, which he borrowed of Preston. McGregor [illegible] greatly encouraged him and told him his fortune was made and that on his return he would surely receive $60,000 and that he would give him an interest in his business, a large [illegible] in New Orleans. Harris soon [illegible] Baltimore.

[illegible] the eight trunks which Harris had [illegible] Wall & [illegible] auctioneers [illegible] where [illegible] $150 advance on the goods which were afterwards [illegible]. He then returned to Baltimore.

[Harris attempted to accompany the goods to Norfolk and Newbern but was prevented by Gen. Butler's [illegible] orders, but he made arrangements with a sutler named Myers of Boston [illegible] to sell [illegible] Norfolk and the other [illegible] Newbern, the proceeds to be forwarded to [illegible]. He gave as a reason for sales at the [illegible] that he wanted to test the market. [illegible] went [illegible] well he would have many [illegible]. One trunk contained 70 shirts and [illegible] coats, the other 150 and 25 shirts respectively. After this arrangement with the sutler Harris returned to [illegible]. Dr. Blackburn telegraphed from Montreal to meet him there and he set out for that city. At Hamilton, [illegible], says Harris, [illegible] Holcomb and C. C. Clay. They shook hands with me and congratulated me on making an independent fortune. Holcomb said the Confederate government had appropriated $[illegible] to carry the expedition through." We again quote Harris' narrative.]

"I did [illegible] go to Montreal because I had no money. [illegible] wrote to Blackburn; he came up on the next train. This was the 10th of August. [illegible] the 17th he came to my house about 12 o'clock with Bennet H. Young, now a prisoner [illegible]. He knocked and I looked out through the window; Blackburn said [illegible] (Harris open the door) [illegible] like all men who have been doing wrong, afraid that the devil is after you." I went down; he was glad I was back. If they had caught me I would have been hung. Asked if the [illegible] trunk No. 2 had been sold in Washington; he said that was right, for it would kill all in [illegible]. I told him all I had done freely; he said that he was satisfied. I then told him my family was suffering for money; said he would go that night and make arrangements with Jake Thompson to draw what money I needed; he was going next morning to Bermuda to take care of the yellow fever there for the English Government. He then went away, and I saw no more of him until he returned from Bermuda, the last part of [illegible]. I went to Thompson next morning and asked for money; he said Dr. Blackburn had authorized him to pay me some money when I had a bill of sale showing I had disposed of the goods. He then gave me $10 to pay rent, and I got out of pawn my wife's dresses. [illegible] week or [illegible] after got bill of sale from Wall & Co., and according [illegible] sales. Thompson upon seeing these, gave me $[illegible]. These payments were the first money [illegible] by check on the Ontario Bank; this check was in the beginning of September; it was to Godfrey J. Hyams; after this I got no money. I wrote several times to Dr. Blackburn, but he did not answer me. I at last went to Montreal to carry the commission of Young for evidence in the trial. Curry McDonald gave it to me. He got it of Thompson. I gave the commission to McChesney, reporter for Telegraph newspaper at Montreal. I then saw Dr. Blackburn, and asked him for money; he laughed at me, said he had none to give.

I heard Thompson, Cleary, Clay, Blackburn, McDonald, etc., speak of the yellow fever in Newbern and wonder why it did not take in other places.

When at Niagara McGregor, Clay, Holcomb, Preston and Dr. Blackburn, said they would raise $1,000,000, bring an immense quantity of clothes, infect them with small pox and diseases which would rage in cold climates, yellow fever for Southern towns, send the goods to Liverpool and tranship them from there to the various places in the North; they would employ me to superintend it all; some would be distributed by sending $1,000 worth of goods to the Sanitary Commission at Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and from Washington. Blackburn said when he was going to Bermuda last August he was going to import more goods with the fever to operate extensively; other physicians at other points were to manage the small pox, etc.; when I saw Blackburn at Montreal he did not tell me he had infected goods at Bermuda; he was not communicative; [illegible] told me not to be impatient, but after a while I would get my money; he said he was going to get a large sum from the Confederacy; he said he would take me to France to see the Emperor, who would give a million to operate in this way upon the American army, if peace was restored and the United States attacked Maximilian."

Of course Harris was duped. He got no more money and soon became disgusted with his employers. How he was induced to make the statements we have given, which came to us from a [illegible] citizen of Michigan, who took them down from his own lips, we cannot say. Nor can we say [illegible] true the details he gives are. We know of circumstances which corroborate his astounding narrative, and think that it is mainly true. The public knows that Dr. Blackburn has been on trial in Bermuda for the very atrocities here detailed, and that the evidence is strong against him.

Davis' Flight.—Through officers of the Confederate army we have received some interesting particulars of Jeff. Davis' movements previous to his capture. His escort was commanded by the rebel general Debrell, who was engaged in battle near Raleigh, N. C., when he received intelligence of Lee's surrender, and at the same time Wheeler got a dispatch from Davis dated at Greensboro, N. C., calling for 1,000 picked men to escort him and what remained of his Government to Washington. After a three day's march Debrell with his required force reached Greensboro, where he found Jeff. Davis with his family, Judah P. Benjamin, John C. Breckinridge, Senator Burnett of Kentucky, J. H. Reagan, Postmaster General, Gustavus A. Henry of Tennessee and other rebel officials.

On Debrell's arrival the party prepared to march and set out the following day. Jeff. Davis and the rebel officials rode in front, followed by ambulances with the women and children and the specie, which was currently reported among the soldiers to amount to some $11,000,000, contained in iron [illegible] and kegs and boxes. Their first camping place was about five miles from Greensboro, Jeff. Davis and family taking up their quarters at a house in the neighborhood.

How the rank and file first ascertained that the Confederate "Government" was a fugitive, and that their mission was simply to help it run away. They naturally became anxious and curious to know the [illegible] not the Government. Discussing among themselves with an [illegible] face [illegible] decidedly threatening to Jeff and his purpose.

On the following day Davis visited the boys and made a soul stirring speech, adverting to the disasters that had overtaken their "beloved Confederacy," but giving them every assurance that they were not irrevocably lost; that all that was necessary to ultimate success was unfaltering [illegible] their Government and the undaunted bravery which had characterized the Confederate armies during its past career. Upon taking the line of march this route in the same order, Jeff. Davis [illegible] beside young Col. Johnston, son of General Albert Sydney Johnston, in whom he evidently reposed the most implicit confidence. [illegible] reached Charlotte, N. C., where they again stopped and Davis harangued the men again in [illegible] them and leading on glowing words [illegible] patriotism. He appeared happy and cheerful, took the boys by the hand, and entered into cheerful conversation with them. He would praise their valor in the presence of the [illegible] and call them the faithful thousand, the [illegible] of the Confederacy, and paid other petty [illegible] substantial compliments. At this point they were joined by Basil Duke, Ferguson and Vaughn with their brigades, which increased the escort to the magnificent proportion of 5,000 men.

After the new men had mingled with the others they soon learned the condition of things and they too had their surmises. Like a pack of hungry wolves they were [illegible] and as the treasure was [illegible] presenting it [illegible] The men would congregate in groups and their low mutterings boded no good [illegible] efforts to conciliate but his eloquence was out of [illegible] now. The men on the 11th [illegible] followed Jeff into South Carolina [illegible] where they again halted [illegible] demoralized. On the 8th [illegible] in a now desperate [illegible] his bribe [illegible] with small [illegible] substantial than words [illegible] and the [illegible] of Duke, Ferguson and Vaughn were formed in line and the soldiers were paid off [illegible] that each were paid $40 [illegible] $25 [illegible] others $[illegible]. They were parting [illegible] bring [illegible] Mexican [illegible] with the United States, but few of them received [illegible] [illegible]

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,
Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED
In One Minute.

New York, September 2, 1864

F. TILLMAN, Esq., 318 Battery street,
Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco

DEAR SIR; WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the "security" of the "Lillie" lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and, of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory and he, in our presence [illegible] [illegible] of Lillie's best safe Locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned on

By One Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt loose.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this Lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc.

Respectfully, &c.,
A. E. TILTON,
WM. McFARLAND

GLOUCESTER, March 26, 1864

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes"

On the 15th of February last a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe with what is left of the papers and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenzie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire faring, however, no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants
(Signed) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual [illegible] [illegible] such as Syphilis, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, [illegible] Weakness, Impotency, [illegible] [illegible] (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible] [illegible] treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Cambridge Place, Pad., Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower st.; [illegible] Brand Sanctuary; Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, [illegible] street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, [illegible] and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of [illegible].

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be surpassed.

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering from this [illegible] disease, contracted from the [illegible] or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible ills—if trying remedies, or that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, who has made private diseases his [illegible] study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who [illegible] all cities, [illegible] their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Weakness, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical means, viz.: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply to a [illegible], either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use. For Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Disease and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $[illegible]. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St., near Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 252

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with a [illegible] on [illegible] certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, news paper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it, [illegible] look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to [illegible] is to make inquiry—it will [illegible] everything and may save you many regrets. [illegible] advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Doctor Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, [illegible] "patients" letters, etc. Doctor Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he possesses. Consultations FREE. m18d6m
